Due to the enormous acceleration of diversity in and with IT ICT, which subsequently triggers all kinds of peril, the universal laws of physics remain as is, also for Vehicle and carrier IT ICT. There is nothing new since... well.... Let's just say starting to use the wheel to accelerate movement.

These universal principles, or laws if you will, are nothing new at all no matter how hard commerce may try to have you believe something new is something utter spectacular. Objective of this seminar is just to set things in ordinary order again stripped from any hype, commerce or politics. We simply visualize these laws or principles, why IT ICT also simply is subdued to these, and with that knowledge you will be able to put IT ICT in everlasting better and constructive use and perspective.

In this seminar the black box will be opened and light thrown in to show there absolutely is nothing new. IT ICT will be placed in the organizations strategic perspective and rightful place. No commerce or politics shall be spared and set aside since IT ICT as vehicle, carrier and matter is wrongfully combined with these with all completely predictable financial losses as a result.

In the end all will be brought back to simplicity of things and you will be able, professional and manager on the one hand, Non IT Executive and deciding management on the other, to see and take IT ICT for what is.

In Perspective.

Have fun with it.....
